BIO

Story

My name is Syrus Nova, I'm a pop artist, producer, and performer from Colombia now based in LA. I'm inspired by bold aesthetics, the magic of authenticity, and the power of human expression. My artistic pillars range from music and entertainment to creative direction, videography, design, and strategic brand development.

I've always dreamed of being an artist alongside talented and passionate people who are as driven and ambitious about what they do. Growing up in an environment that praised blending in and judged standing out - I had a big challenge to face. As a young expressive queer man that was inquisitive about culture I thrived in creative activities. Being in front of a camera, performing for others, and experimenting with style was an invigorating way of breaking a mold that I wasn't even aware of. I took a pause from my music production major to move to Denmark for an exchange student program where I got to experience different cultures and meet people from all over the world. That time in Europe helped cement my identity and my desire to embrace a creative career with a global reach.

Now I live in sunny California, where I've felt a powerful bond with the welcoming community that arrives here searching for a bigger purpose. I have built numerous relationships with people in show business and design by attending conferences, events, workshops, mixers, and masterclasses. This eclectic approach has defined my goal as uplifting other's pursuit of their dreams with the purpose of creating a more symbiotic society.
